Brief about the (Activity/ Event)	Every year the Institute takes up student activities reflecting the institute philosophy, "Experiment and learn" and "Connect with nature". Many people are unaware of the danger it poses to environment. Considering this fact clay model making workshop is conducted in the institute. Students explore their skills in making their artifacts under expert faculty members guidance at the same time paying their respect to nature. This activity greatly helps to bring awareness in students for reducing use of non-ecofriendly material. Students from first to fourth year actively participated.

Brief about the (Activity/ Event)	The Institute Celebrated Makar Sankranti on 14th January, 2017, Saturday. The main objective of this festival is to celebrate the arrival of longer days and the end of the winter solstice. Apart from this, Makar Sankranti is also a festival that celebrates the unity and diversity of India. It is celebrated in different parts of the country with different names and customs, but the essence of the festival remains the same - spreading joy and happiness, and strengthening the bonds in community.
